TEACHER'S NOTES FOR YOU!

Sonshine Preschool Note ~ Miss Holly

The children are adjusting well to their new class environment and starting to make new friends. This week, we move through the letters B and C, numbers 2 and 3 and still the shape, circle.

We will be wrapping up creation and heading into an apple/ pumpkin unit and the fall of Adam and Eve.

I will be setting up the fall field trip to Boggio's and will let everyone know by text the date. We will need drivers and chaperones.

Some exciting news...Hallie's mom, Ashley Grey, is creating a t-shirt option that will be available for purchase. More news to follow shortly on that. Have a great fall week.

Kindergarten ~ Mrs. Bullington

Hey Kindergarten Families!

We had a wonderful time on grandparents day sharing our Bible memory and showing our work in the classroom! We have been continuing to review our letter sounds and have begun our very first readers! Some children are ready to bring their readers home to practice. They don't need to read the whole thing in one sitting, but once they have read the whole thing, you can sign the back. Once the reader is read 6 times, the child gets a prize! Please let your child sound the word themselves several times before telling them what it says if they are having trouble hearing the blend initially. You may have to remind them of the short e sound, as that is very challenging to remember. The readers should come back to school each day so they can practice at school too!

Kindergarten Continued...

We met our reading buddies today! These junior high girls are in my small group at youth group here at PBC, and they love to help listen to the kids practice their reading for about 10 minutes before our lunch Monday-Thursday.

We have begun learning some vowel teams and special sounds. It is much easier for children to hear the blend when long vowel sounds are used, so this helps develop their reading skills! We have learned oo, ee, ea, th, and will learn sh and ch this week too.

We have begun learning to count by 10s in numbers and continuing learning our teen numbers and counting by 1s.

In Bible, we will start talking about creation this week. Have a wonderful week thanking God for all His blessings to us in Christ!
